7.1.1 Review – Affirmative Questions

Now to recent business news. According to recent news, the company, once listed as one of the 50 fastest growing tech companies in the nation, has declared bankruptcy. Speculators are left wondering what caused this fall. Could it have been avoided if the recent CEO was not appointed? Will they have paid off initial investors back before liquidating their offices? We will have a company refinance specialist later in the program to discuss possible outcomes of this turn of events.
